

PRIVACY POLICY

Updated: April 1, 2021

This Privacy Policy governs the manner in which IDX Markets, LLC (“IDX”) collects, processes, maintains and discloses personal information collected from users (each, a “User”). This Privacy Policy applies to all websites and products and services offered by IDX.

Information we collect from Users

Users may be asked for, as appropriate, his or her name, company email address and company phone number. Users may, however, visit our website anonymously. Users can always refuse to supply such information, except that it may prevent them from engaging in certain of our products and services.

We may also collect data about Users whenever they interact with our products and services. Such information may include the type of browser used, the type of computer and technical information about Users means of connection to our products and services, such as the operating system and the Internet service providers utilized.

Why we collect your information

IDX collects and processes information for the following purposes:

Access to our services

Personal information you provide allows us to create User accounts so you can access our services.

To improve customer service

Information you provide helps us respond to your customer service requests and support needs more efficiently.

To improve our products and services

We may use feedback you provide to improve our products and services.

To send service-related communications

We may use the company email addresses supplied to send Users information and updates pertaining to our products and services, including information on periodic updates. Email addresses may also be used to respond to User inquiries, questions, and/or other requests.

For security

In order to keep the service safe and secure, we need to take action against fraudulent and/or unacceptable User behavior.

Sharing your personal information

We do not sell, trade, or rent Users’ personal information to others. We may share generic aggregated information not linked to any personal identification information regarding visitors and users with our business partners and trusted affiliates for the purposes outlined above. We may use third-party service providers to help us operate our business and provide the products and services. These third-party service providers process your information only at and according to IDX’s instructions as part of the provision of our products and services.

In order to combat fraud and illegal activity, we may exchange information with other companies and organizations and provide it to public authorities in response to lawful requests. We may also disclose information to comply with applicable law or to protect the rights, property or safety of us or others.

Third-party materials

We do not control the content or information that appears as a result of third-party services and are not responsible for the practices employed by such services. In addition, these services, including their content or information, may be constantly changing. These services may have their own privacy policies and customer service policies. Third-party materials, including their content and information, are subject to their own terms and conditions and policies.

International data transfers

Our company is U.S. based and our products and services are global by nature, so your information can be transferred anywhere in the world. As different countries may have different data protection laws than your own country, we take steps to ensure that adequate safeguards are in place to protect your information as explained in this Policy.

How we protect your personal information

We adopt industry standard data collection, storage and processing practices and security measures to protect against unauthorized access, alteration, disclosure or destruction of your personal information, username and password stored in our products and services.

Cookies

What are cookies?

Cookies are text files placed on your computer to collect standard Internet log information and visitor behavior information. When you visit the IDX website, we may collect information from you automatically through cookies or similar technology.

What types of cookies do we use?

There are a number of different types of cookies, however, our website uses:

- Functionality — IDX uses these cookies so that we recognize you on our website and remember your previously selected preferences. These could include what language you prefer and location you are in. A mix of first-party and third-party cookies are used.
- Advertising — IDX uses these cookies to collect information about your visit to our website, the content you viewed, the links you followed and information about your browser, device, and your IP address. IDX sometimes shares some limited aspects of this data with third parties for advertising purposes. We may also share online data collected through cookies with our advertising partners. This means that when you visit another website, you may be shown advertising based on your browsing patterns on our website.

- CSRF Token – IDX uses these cookies to prevent cross-site request forgery. On an initial visit without an associated server session, the web application sets a cookie which is scoped appropriately so that it should not be provided during cross-origin requests. The cookie contains a random token which is removed upon logout.

How to manage cookies

You can set your browser not to accept cookies, and the website allaboutcookies.org tells you how to remove cookies from your browser. However, in a few cases, some of our website features may not function as a result.

Data retention

We retain your information for as long as your account is active or as needed to provide our products and services. Note that if you ask us to remove your personal information, we will retain your information as necessary for our legitimate business interests, such as to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, and enforce our agreements.

Your rights in connection with your personal data

IDX would like to make sure you are fully aware of all of your data protection rights. Every user is entitled to the following:

- The right to access — You have the right to request copies of your personal data. We may charge you a small fee for this service.
- The right to rectification — You have the right to request that IDX correct any information you believe is inaccurate. You also have the right to request IDX to complete information you believe is incomplete.
- The right to erasure — You have the right to request that IDX erase your personal data, under certain conditions.
- The right to restrict processing — You have the right to request that IDX restrict the processing of your personal data, under certain conditions.
- The right to object to processing — You have the right to object to IDX's processing of your personal data, under certain conditions.
- The right to data portability — You have the right to request that IDX transfer the data that we have collected to another organization, or directly to you, under certain conditions.

If you make a request, we have one month to respond to you. If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please contact us at our email:
